CONTRACTS FOR NEW CHURCH ABOUT CLOSED

MATTER IN HANDS OF ARCHITECTS TO PIECE WITH LOWEST BIDDERS.

The first real work of construction on the new M. E. Church, South, at this place began Monday morning when the broad concrete footing for the foundation was put in under the supervision of Mr. J. H. Preston, an experienced, concrete contractor. With the aid of a new power mixer the work was rapidly handled. The basement walls and floor will go into place at a corresponding rapid pace.

The architects, Higginbotham and Knapp, of Charleston, W. Va., succeeded last week in securing lower bids from contractors than had been received by the building committee of the church and matter of placing the contracts was placed entirely in their hands, with instructions to get the job started at the earliest possible date. The contractors will take the work from the top of the basement. As already stated the basement is being built by J. H. Preston, who is giving his time and labor and knowledge free.

The walls will be rough-faced brick. The trimmings and columns of Bedford stone.

Mr. G. W. Atkinson, owner of the water company, very liberally donated all the water needed in the construction of the building.

SWIFT ACTION IN CASE OF NEGRO ROBBER.

The Logan W. Va., Democrat says: For a crime of highway robbery committed on last Friday evening, John Brown, colored, alias "Whitechild," was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of ten years after a trial lasting but few hours. The conclusion of the case was the speediest meeting out of justice in the criminal annals of the county.

Brown was charged with knocking down and robbing William Thomas "Buggit" in the railroad yards last Friday night. He was indicted by the special grand jury one day and his trial took place next morning, followed by the prompt finding of a verdict of guilty by the jury and the equally prompt pronouncement of sentence by Judge Wilkinson.

VOICE AND VIOLIN

A very delightful interlude occurred in the meeting of the Junior League of the M. E. Church, South, at the meeting last Sunday afternoon. It consisted of some exquisite violin music played by Miss Nell Gallagher, of Cincinnati, and a beautiful vocal solo rendered by Miss Donaldson, of Ashland. The first number was a violin solo and when one sweep of the bow crossed the strings this mighty instrument showed that it was in the hands of a mistress of the art of violin playing. It was followed by several other pieces by the same artist, each number receiving a delightfully hearty encore. The young lady's playing was a revelation to all present and particularly was it delightful to the musicians present. Some of the pieces rendered by her were very difficult of execution, but they were played easily, gracefully and with a sweep of the bow and a touch of the fingers which showed the true artist. The young lady in question now only 18, has received ten years of instruction from the best masters, and such is her proficiency as a player that she won a scholarship in the Cincinnati College of Music. She will shortly begin a tour under the direction of the Lyceum Bureau at a very remunerative salary. Her sister, Miss Katherine, accompanied her on the organ and showed much proficiency in playing. The vocal solo given by Miss Donaldson showed her to be the possessor of a wonderfully fine voice. It is a rich, full soprano of much range and compass and she used it in a way that showed careful and competent cultivation in the hands of a master. But one objection could be urged against Miss Donaldson and this is the fact that she sang only the one time, while her hearers were anxious for more.

BUSKIRK-LEWIS

At the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. White, on Holden on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Winnie Lewis to R. W. Buskirk, Jr.

Both of the young people are well known and exceptionally popular all through Logan county and their marriage will bring forth general congratulations and good wishes from their legion of friends.—Independent.

ROBINSON FOR GOVERNOR

Gen. Lilly has withdrawn from the contest for the Republican nomination for Governor of West Virginia, abandoning contests in several counties. Robinson's majority on the face of the returns was 589.

R. O. CONLEY WAS ACQUITTED

Huntington, Aug. 1.—R. O. Conley, who was charged with embezzlement of $2,268.10 from the Singer Sewing machine Co. was declared not guilty last night by the jury. Three other counts are to be faced next term of court, in the event that they are not nolle.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Mark Lyon, 19, to Maude Phillips, 20, both of Mado. Married by Rev. M. A. Hay.

Jennings Frazier, 21, to Annie Peters, 21, of Wayne county, W. Va.

GEORGE DERIFIELD DIES OF TYPHOID AT ASHLAND.

After a brave fight death came to relieve the sufferings of George W. Derifield, who passed away Sunday afternoon at his home in Ashland. Mr. Derifield had been ill for three weeks with typhoid fever. He was a popular brakeman on the C. & O. road and was a man of sterling worth and splendid character.

Mr. Derifield was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and also the Odd Fellows who attended the funeral in a body and had charge of ritualistic services at the grave.

The deceased was the son of Labe and Mary Derifield, who reside near Catlettsburg. He was born in Lawrence county, Feb. 21, 1882, being 34 years old at the time of his death. He was married 12 years ago in Lawrence county to Miss Lillie Cassidy and to this union three children were born. The deceased is survived, besides the heart broken wife, by his loving parents and three sweet little children, Thelma, 6, Bertha, 5, and Charles Edward, 2.

The funeral was held Tuesday by Rev. W. M. Given, pastor of the M. E. Church South, assisted by Rev. W. M. Wakefield. The remains were carried to the Ashland cemetery and laid to rest.—Independent.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY VISITED BY STORM.

Morehead was visited Thursday evening of last week by the worst wind and rain storm in fifty years. Trees were uprooted and roots blown from dwellings and business houses, entailing losses amounting to thousands of dollars.

The court house which had just undergone repairs, was damaged to the extent of $2,000. Electric light wires are all down and the town will be in darkness for several weeks, as the light plant was also damaged. The streets were a mass of fallen timbers. Lexington, Ky., July 28.—The temporary connection between the wheels of an L. & E. passenger train and the rails on an iron bridge, which it was crossing, made by a flash of lightning which struck the engine, brought the train to an instant stop hurling passengers from their seats. Several persons were cut by glass when they were thrown against the windows and by the falling lamps, which were thrown from their seats by the jerk. And a number of bruises were sustained by persons falling against the backs of seats.

REVIVAL MEETINGS AT BETHEL CAMP GROUNDS.

Beginning August 19th and closing September 3rd there will be two series of daily at the camp grounds near Busseyville. Preachers and singers from Ashland and Huntington will be in charge. Meals and lodging on the grounds. Everybody invited.

FLOYD COUNTY MAN HIT BY A TRAIN

MANUEL ROBINSON, A DEAF MAN, BADLY BATTERED BY TRAIN.

Ashland Independent:—The young man who was struck by the Virginian train Friday morning and so seriously injured, recovered sufficiently to write his name on a piece of paper and give it to Mrs. Callahan, superintendent of the King's daughters' Hospital, where he is being tenderly cared for. He wrote "Manuel Robinson, Prestonsburg, son of John Robinson." Although conscious the young man cannot hear, the blow on his head having made him deaf. He withstood the operation very nicely and was much improved with chances for his recovery very much bright.

Ten men from Charleston visited the hospital last night but none were able to identify the train's victim.

BIG SANDY PACKET.

Capt. G. C. Greene, steamboatman of Cincinnati, will build a boat at Catlettsburg to run regularly on the slackwater of Big Sandy river. The boat will make daily trips from Catlettsburg to the head of the slackwater pools. Capt. Tom Vaughan, of Catlettsburg, will be in charge. The boat will have a capacity of 25 passengers and 15 tons of freight. A large gasoline engine of the latest type will furnish the power.

KILLED BY N. & W. TRAIN

Chas. Hasnole, a structural iron worker, giving his home as Pittsburg, was killed Thursday night at Hanging Rock, O., while beating his way to Sciotoville, O., to work on the C. & O. bridge. He was in the Mayor's court that morning, arrested the night before asleep in the park. He told the Mayor he had a wife and child.

WAYNE COUNTY JURORS

The following are the jurors from Butler District for the August term of the Wayne Circuit Court: Grand Jurors: J. B. Smith, J. J. Ratcliff and W. T. Workman.

Felony Jurors: J. O. Atkins, Grover Rowe, B. P. Toney, Virgil Hatten, G. W. Workman and F. C. Sipple.

MEADOWS JURY HUNG

The jury disagreed in the case of Jack Meadows, at Logan, W. Va., charged with maliciously wounding a Syrian recently.

ASHLAND MEN VICTIMS OF FATAL ACCIDENTS

ON RAILROAD AND AUTOMOBILE. RIVAL ENGINES OF DESTRUCTION.

KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN. Chas. Osborn, age 22, whose home was at Lawton, Boyd county, was run over by a C. & O. freight train Saturday night and instantly killed, his body being severed in two at the hips and his lower extremities badly mangled. The unfortunate young man who was single, and a crowd of friends were riding the C. & O. extra freight when the accident occurred.

Osborn was the third victim of car wheels in this section last week.

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Ashland, Ky., July 30.—In an automobile accident at Sciotoville, O., James McCafferty, of Ashland, was killed, and James Williams sustained a broken back. McCafferty leaves a wife and one child. Williams, who recently moved to Portsmouth from Ashland, leaves a wife and three children. Three other men in the machine, escaped with slight bruises.

GRANDSONS OF UNCLE TIP HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

The Logan Democrat of last week had the following:

While swimming in the river near the upper end of town on Monday, Philip and Carl Moore, the younger sons of postmaster J. M. Moore, had a narrow escape from drowning and but for the cool-headedness and prompt action of Eldon Parrish, a companion, it is probable that the lads would have perished. The two boys got out beyond their depths and were rapidly drowning when young Parrish discovered their plight and went to their aid, and after a struggle he hauled them both out to the bank, where all three of the boys lay for some minutes quite exhausted from exertion and fright.

THE PRICE OF OIL DECLINES 10 CENTS

The Standard Oil Co. has reduced the price of oil in Kentucky from $1.95 to $1.85. For some time it has been predicted that a decline was coming and nobody but the Standard knows where it will stop. This is bad news for the operators, as it costs just as much to market dollar oil as it does two dollar oil.

SHE WAS FOURTEEN

Monday July 31, was the fourteenth anniversary of the birthday of Miss Lorraine Clay, an attractive young girl. With the assistance of a large number of her friends of both sexes, she celebrated this auspicious event in a very delightful way. The hours were about 7:30 to 10 p. m. possibly a little later. It was an outdoor and indoor affair, the weather making it possible to have both music and several kinds of games made enjoyable. One of the "games" was a marriage or at least the semblance of one. "The high contracting parties" as the society reporters have it, were Miss Sallie Burns and Mr. Luther Atkins and it is said that they looked the parts. The marriage ceremony was performed by "Rev." Brooks McEldowney, whose distinguished father could not have done better, let him try ever so hard. The "parents" who regretted so much to give their daughter in marriage were Jim Ferguson and Ellen Hughes. The attendants were Miss Elizabeth Yates, maid of honor, and Mr. Jack Crutcher, best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Elizabeth Conley. Delicious refreshments of cake and cream were daintily served. The presents received by Miss Lorraine were very numerous and beautiful.

EXCITEMENT AT DEPOT

Last Sunday morning while Jasper Vanhose, of Fort Gay, and three or four other persons were leaving the N. & W. depot, with No. 4 still at the depot, they were very much startled by the screams of a child apparently about seven years old who was evidently much frightened and acted like she was trying to get away. Mr. Vanhose thinking something was wrong caught the little girl and held her until he could flag No. 4, believing that she in some manner had gotten off the train or had been left. The train had stopped by this time and the conductor came on the platform to see what was the matter. The colored porter of the Pullman entered the sleeper, which at that time resounded with the screams of one of the women passengers who declared that her child had been lost or was stolen. The excited child, however, restored peace to the woman who declared that she did not know how the child had gotten off the train. "All's well that ends well" and the train moved eastward without further incident. It is believed that the child might have been walking in her sleep and was only aroused by the noise of the stopping train.

NEW BRIDGE ACROSS TUG RIVER

The Williamson, W. Va., News says: At a meeting of the city commissioners last night and the authorities of Pike county, Ky., arrangements were made and papers signed up so that the work of erecting a new bridge across Tug River at the head of second avenue will start immediately.

NOVEL PUBLICITY STUNT ON THE PERSON WEIGHER

A. C. McClure, of Louisa, certainly got the Toledo Person Weigher into a lot of desirable prominence at Terre Haute recently. Terre Haute Council U. C. T. gave a May festival, which was well attended by members and their wives. Mr. McClure had a person weigher on hand and all the ladies, at their respective places, were given a card showing the name and address, with a space for the weight. Later on they were weighed on the person weigher and an adding machine added the weights up. They then divided the total weight, which was about 12,000 lbs. by the number weighed which gave an average of 123 lbs. The lady who weighed exactly this received the first prize, and the ones weighing nearest above and below that amount received second prizes. Then there was a prize for the heaviest, 293 lbs. and a prize for the lightest, 88 lbs. The newspapers in commenting upon the affair, conceded that the stunt one of the best and most original ever pulled off by the local Council of the U. C. T.

This is certainly the way to stir up interest in the person weigher and Mr. McClure is to be congratulated upon his enterprise, upon his originality and upon the ability which he displayed in putting the new idea across.

REDUCTION IN PRICES OF FORD MACHINES.

The Ford Automobile company announced on August 1st a reduction in the price of their cars. The five passenger car is now $360 at Detroit instead of $440. The freight is added to whatever point the machines are shipped.

This announcement came like a clap of thunder from a clear sky. The present price of everything that enters into the making of these cars was supposed to be sufficient reason for the price remaining where it was. The Ford company has a rule of keeping its plans absolutely secret as to prices, and when a reduction is coming, not even their agents know anything about it until the announcement is made on the day the reduction takes place. If an announcement were made in advance that the prices would be reduced on a certain date there would be a cessation of orders. This is their reason for this rule. The new prices are guaranteed against a reduction for a year, but not against an advance the company announces.

JUDGE J. B. WILKINSON NAMED FOR SUPREME JUDGE.

Circuit Judge Wilkinson, of the Wayne-Logan district, has been nominated by the Democrats of West Virginia for a place on the Supreme Court bench of West Virginia. James W. Ewing, of Wheeling, is the other nominee for supreme Judge, made by the State Convention at Parkersburg Wednesday.

PRIMARY ELECTION

The primary election Saturday of this week will nominate both Democratic and Republican candidates for Congress. Also, a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals is to be nominated. This fight is only in the Republican ranks, as a nomination this year is equivalent to election in this district. Four years ago there was a strong Bull Moose crowd and this so reduced the Republican vote that Judge Turner, Democratic, was elected. This year there may not be a Democratic candidate.

SMALLPOX IN FORT GAY.

Up to this time there are no important new developments in the smallpox situation in Fort Gay since our report last week. So far there is only one case, that of the street-car driver employee who was engineer at the merry-go-round. He and his wife are in quarantine at Fort Gay and the man is convalescent. There has hardly been time as yet for other cases to develop, if such an unfortunate condition is to arise, but a close watch should be kept for symptoms from this time forward.

SUNRISE OUTING

On Thursday the Junior Epworth League of the M. E. Church, South, enjoyed a sunrise outing. The place used for the observation of the coming of the god of the day was the reservoir hill. There were about twenty-five young persons participating in this affair and how so many little folks were gotten out of bed at the unusual, unseemly hour to them, of 2:30 is a mystery. They arrived at the parsonage about 4 o'clock and were taken in charge by Mrs. McEldowney who is the conductor of the League. Everybody was provided with sufficient material already prepared for a delicious breakfast and these materials aided by coffee prepared at the place of meeting, formed a very fine breakfast which was heartily enjoyed. The regular League program was observed which was in lieu of the regular next Sunday afternoon league exercise. The affair must have been enjoyed very much by the young people, judging from what they say of it.

DEATH OF HENRY CYRUS

On the 22nd of July 1916, Henry Cyrus, a well known citizen of Durbin, passed from among the living to his reward beyond. Brother Cyrus was a left a splendid record, having been a loyal member of the Baptist church for years. A loving father, husband and the very best kind of neighbor as all true children are. "He fought a good fight and kept the faith." He had the best of attention through all his illness, which has been about ten months, by the family and friends and especially by the I. O. O. F. Lodge, of Ceredo, W. Va., who spent much time and money for his comfort and also turned out in a large body at his funeral and burial, which was conducted by the writer on the 23 of July 1916. We all miss him very much.

TRYING IT OUT.

Huntington, W. Va., July 7.—In recognition of the approaching union of Methodism in the United States, as indicated by the action of the Saratoga Springs conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, the pastors of the two largest congregations representing the Methodist Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal Church South, have planned for an experimental union in the vacation season. On Sunday July 30, the congregation of the first M. E. church will worship with that of the Johnson Memorial M. E. church, South. D. J. W. Engle, pastor of the first M. E. church, will preach morning and evening. On Sunday, Aug 6th both congregations will worship at the first M. E. Church, and Dr. S. W. Walker, pastor of Johnson Memorial will preach.

REVENUE AND MRS. F. F. SHANNON AND SON.

Rev. and Mrs. F. F. Shannon and son, Frederick, who had spent several weeks with relatives in this city, left Thursday for other points. At Ashland there was a temporary parting on the ways Mrs. Shannon and their son will go to visit friends in Logan, W. Va., for a short time before going to York, Pa. her former home. Mr. Shannon will go direct to Olathe, Kansas, where he will deliver two lectures of his "Youth Bureau course." He will also deliver lectures in other western towns before returning home. They will return to their Brooklyn home in September.

CHAUTAUQUA PASSED UP LOUISA ENGAGEMENT

BECAUSE OF SMALLPOX IN FORT GAY, AND OTHER OBSTACLES

P. T. Barnum was considered some showman in his day, but he has been out-distanced by the modern artist—the fellow who thought out the scheme of selling to small towns what he calls a Chautauqua. Barnum had to take chances on receipts; his was not a sure thing. It's different with this fellow's show. He slips up on the blind side of twenty or twenty-five good citizens who have not been sitting up nights studying Chautauquas—at least not from the business end. The smooth advance agent talks more about "boosters" than about Chautauquas. He is loaded with booster buttons and booster pennants and booster banners. He gets a list of reliable citizens and proceeds to arouse their "boost" instincts. It's a hopelessly dead one who hasn't some civic pride tucked away somewhere about his person. The business of the advance agent is to touch the aforesaid c. p. and start his victim's boost germs surging through his system. Then, at the psychological moment, get his autograph on the dotted line under an iron clad contract guaranteeing the showman's price for what he has to offer—and no questions asked as to quantity or quality. A one-horse show it is very likely to be. But what does Bat-cliff care. If he sells half the small towns in the United States only once in his life-time at his own price he hasn't lost a fortune.

But what we started out to say was that the three days' chautauqua advertised for Louisa for last Friday, Saturday and Monday was compromised and called off. A case of smallpox happened along just at the right time, travelling with another aggravation of entertainers, and stopped over in our neighbor town of Fort Gay. Of course it would not be neighborly or brotherly or sisterly to have our first Chautauqua show when our sister city was laid up in the pest house and itching to be with us. So for this reason alone, be it understood the show man accepted one hundred dollars of real United States money from the score of citizens who guarantee that everything will turn out all right, and everybody holding a season ticket gets a rain check or his money back. It cost the committee only four or five dollars apiece to see the "Exit," but they all appear to be enjoying it. They are glad it didn't cost five times that amount.

One of the boosters suggests that a moonlight school be organized to study all the busy schemes "before taking." Preparedness is the real thing nowadays. The chautauqua will get you if you're not fortified.

But to get away from the light vein in which the above was written, the committee of good citizens labored hard to give the town this attraction, and they deserve much credit for their efforts. The advance sale fell so far below the cost of the course, and the fear of a smallpox epidemic, resulted in giving it up.

A SEWING BEE

Last Friday the handsome home of Mrs. F. T. D. Wallace was bright with a bevy of pretty girls arrayed in their daintiest and freshest frocks. The occasion was a sewing party given by the hostess complimentary to her nieces Misses Mary Emily and Martha Russell, of Ashland. The sewing part of the pleasant affair was so so and not so, but that mattered but little, for the pretty Misses had gathered for the purpose of having a good time, which they surely had. There was music, vocal and instrumental, very much conversation in lighter vein and the refreshments were all that could possibly be desired. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the dominant colors being yellow and white. By using these colors Mrs. Wallace paid a delicate compliment to Miss Mary Emily Russell, these being her class colors at Smith College, where the young lady is a student. The guests numbered about fifteen and none of them has any but the most pleasant recollections of that delightful Friday afternoon.

MOONLIGHT SCHOOLS BEGIN SESSION.

Moonlight schools will begin their session on Monday evening, August 14th, throughout the State. The session will run for twenty-four evenings, four evenings each week, the hours being from seven to nine o'clock. The Kentucky Illiteracy Commission, Frankfort, Ky., furnishes instructions and equipment for such schools. Teachers are volunteering by the thousand, and many counties are setting a high aim. In Clay county every teacher has volunteered for the third successive year and they plan to teach one thousand to read and write before the session closes. Leslie and Cumberland counties have also sounded the slogan—"One Thousand taught to read and write." McCreeky plans to wipe out illiteracy this year and has the slogan "No Illiteracy in McCreeky County in 1917." How many teachers in your county have volunteered? How many moonlight schools will be there? How many will be taught to read and write?

MEETING OF DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMITTEEN

At a meeting of the Democratic Precinct Committeemen of Lawrence County held at the Court House in Louisa, Ky., on Saturday July 29th, at 2 o'clock p. m., pursuant to a call of the Democratic Executive Committee, R. A. Stone was chosen as the Democratic Campaign and County Chairman. James Q. Lackey, Precinct Committeeman, R. G. Moore, Secy. Dem. Ex. Com. of Lawrence County.

NATATORIAL

On last Monday afternoon about twenty-five young people, friends of the hostess, Miss Sallie Burns, were entertained by a swimming party in the river just below the dam. The day invited such a sport and the invitation was gladly accepted, and many went into the water. After disporting themselves to their heart's content and the good of their bodies, they had an elegant luncheon, served at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Snyder. There many good things had been prepared and as the exercise in the water had given appetites to those who did not have them before, it could not be said that twelve basketsful of fragrant meats were gathered up. Miss Burns received the thanks of all of the participants in the frolic.

TRAIN KILLS YOUNG MAN IN CARTER CO.

Cecil Isom loses his life by the freight train route.

CECIL ISOM LOSES HIS LIFE BY THE FREIGHT TRAIN ROUTE.

The remains of Cecil Isom, aged 18 years, son of Arch Isom, of Leon were found Saturday morning beside the railroad track at Coalton. From the injuries on the body, it was evident that the unfortunate young man had met his death by falling off a moving train. His face was badly bruised and gave signs of having been dragged for some distance along the track. The injury to the skull is what is thought to have caused his death. As the body was found near the home of a sister of the deceased, Mrs. Filmore Meadows, it is thought that the young man attempted to jump from a freight train to visit her.

Slip a few Prince Albert smokes into your system!

You've heard many an earful about the Prince Albert patented process that cuts out bite and parch and lets you smoke your fill without a comeback! Stake your bank roll that it proves out every hour of the day. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

There's sport smoking a pipe or rolling your own, but you know that you've got to have the right tobacco! We tell you Prince Albert will bang the doors wide open for you to come in on a good time firing up every little so often, without a regret! You'll feel like your smoke past has been wasted and will be sorry you cannot back up for a fresh start.

You swing on this say-so like it was a tip to a thousand-dollar bill! It's worth that in happiness and contentment to you, to every man who knows what can be gotten out of a chummy jimmy pipe or a makin' cigarette with Prince Albert for "packing"!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO.
Winston-Salem, N. C.

This is the reverse side of the tin

THE Prince Albert tin, and in fact, every Prince Albert package, has a real message to you on its reverse side. You'll read "Process Patented July 30th, 1907." That means that the United States Government has granted a patent on the process by which Prince Albert is made. And by which tongue bite and throat parch are cut out! Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting you in tippy red bags, or tippy red tins, or handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor and in that clever crystal glass humidor, with sponge-moistener top, that keeps the tobacco in such fine condition—always!

WEST VIRGINIA ITEMS OF NEWS.

BOY DROWNS

Lee, 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Blankenship, was drowned while in bathing at Wayne Sunday evening. Young Blankenship with several boys were playing in a boat which sank in deep water. The fact that neither Blankenship nor his associates could swim accounts for the death.

The body was recovered a little less than an hour after the accident, but life was then extinct. The remains were taken to Millers Fork, the boy's home, early Monday.—Wayne News.

KILLED HUSBAND AT DEPOT

Bluefield, W. Va. July 28.—As Norfolk and Western passenger train No. 3 stood at station here discharging passengers, Mrs. Pretzel Madison, colored, stepped up to her husband, Pretzel Madison, who stepped from the train and shot and instantly killed him. Five shots were fired, three taking effect. William Snyder, a young newspaper man, rushed to the murderess, disarmed her, arrested her and escorted her to jail. Jealousy is given as the cause.

WEBBVILLE

As briefly stated last week, death has been in our community and saddened homes of our friends and neighbors. Mrs. Tempa Shepherd Triplett answered the call of our Father on Friday, July 21. All had been done by friends and medical aid that could be done, but to no avail. Mrs. Osborn of Blaine, York of Louisa and Motters of Ashland, were in consultation with Dr. Thompson, but after six days of suffering she passed away. She was a very beautiful and attractive girl, who a year ago went to Galveston, Texas, where she was married to Austin Triplett, of the 7th Ky. Infantry. Her married life was brief but very happy. Mr. Triplett arrived two days before her death. She was conscious until the last and gave every assurance to her friends that the passing was into that home not made with hands. She leaves an infant daughter, husband, father, mother, brothers, sisters and numerous friends. The funeral was preached at the home by Brother Leonard Bowling and her body laid to rest in the family lot overlooking the home by the side of a sister and brother.

The angel of death entered the home of Willie Ison and wife, at Jean, and took their baby son, aged two months. Heaven is so much nearer when we have our babes over there. We can almost hear the angels whisper, "Be faithful a few more days; we are watching for you."

Again the call of death came to the home of Van Boggs and wife and took their infant son aged three months. Our sympathy is with the bereaved family, our prayers are for them to live so they may be ready to meet their loved ones gone on before.

A TRIP THROUGH PART OF LAWRENCE AND BOYD COUNTIES

Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock we started to Bear Creek on train, arriving there at 6:30 and found a buggy waiting for us, my granddaughter, Willie Belle Cole being with me. We drove nine miles up the right hand fork of Beaver Creek, then over to Wm Cole's where we found a supper of fried chicken, good country ham and lots of other good things waiting for us. After a good night's rest we had a nice breakfast and then sat out in the yard watching the neighbors pass in autos and buggies to Ashland and Catlettsburg in droves, and talked to a good many old friends. Want to say to the country boys and girls stick to the farm. It is the happiest and now most independent and profitable occupation you can have. It may be hard work for several years, but after a while you can sit and ride and boss your work and watch 50 or 80 fine cattle, 8 to 10 fine cow, 10 to 20 fine horses and mules grazing on your blue grass hills, and have a pretty wife and children and be in easy circumstances and be independent and happy, and hitch up your horse and buggy or automobile and go to church and Sunday School or to town, and send the children to our splendid country schools and when you want to finish up the education of your fine well-behaved, well-raised boys and girls, bring them to our Louisa colleges and prepare them for President, Congress, doctors, teachers, preachers or farmers for we have as good schools for this as any in the State, and our roads are being made good. Last Thursday and Friday—roadworking days—our town turned out every working man and did a fine two days' work on the road, and as far as I went up Bear Creek I saw where uncle Joe Hatten and Charley Warren had sent their teams and plowed and dragged the road up Bear Creek just fine and we had no trouble driving that nine miles in the night. You all know that uncle Joe Hatten and Chas. Warren always do anything asked for the good of the country or the people.

Crops are good in our county, oats and wheat all saved in fine weather and corn clean and coming just fine.

I must mention our preacher, Bro. McElowney, for I heard him talked about all the time I was gone as the best preacher and the most wonderful man and mixer they ever saw. They appreciate him all over the country and he is wonderful, preaching in Louisa every Sunday morning and noon and from 10 to 20 miles some place in the country at three o'clock. This Sunday at Trinity, down on East Fork May our Lord give him to us another year.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months."

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

BUCHANAN

Our children's day at Cliff Sunday School was pronounced a success by all who attended it. The attendance was large, they came from Ashland, Louisa, Prichard, Zella, Mt. Zion and other places. Many were turned away for want of room. The day was very warm. We had good attention and fine order. We had the Nashville publishing house program, which we found to be good enough. The Harris Band furnished us fine instrumental music to the delight of all. Our choir assisted by the children sang beautifully; the children performed their parts to the delight of those who were fortunate enough to get to see them. The decorations and arrangement of the stage was simply grand. We think as good if not the best we ever saw at Buchanan school house, all thanks to those who made things so beautiful.

The cradle roll which numbers about forty was largely attended. Miss Elizabeth Hatten, Supt. of that department, had labored hard to make the exercise attractive. Her work was well rewarded. The songs sung by the "Rollers" and the beautiful little promotion song "Open the gates for the dear little feet," sung by Mary Wallace, was greatly enjoyed by all.

The closing exercise, consisting of a missionary piece was grand indeed. As a lot of girls carrying American flags represented persons inside the garden with all the glorious christian privileges, while others clothed in foreign costumes, carrying foreign flags, stood outside the garden, representing those who have never known Christ. The song, a pleading request, "Outside the Garden," Those inside the garden heard their pleading and opened the gates for them, representing just what the foreign missionaries want to do to bring the world to Christ.

Mr. Ollie Kinneer Jr. a kind of natural genius, by request, had printed in beautiful letters and placed over the gate "Will the gates be open for me?" Just before the close of the service a number of young men sang the beautiful and impressive song "Will the gates be open for me?"

The closing song "The world children" was sung by the school to the delight of the spectators. J. F. M.

MOTHERHOOD.

A robust, manly son and a cooing baby-girl nestling in her bosom—what more can any woman ask? It is a boon that Heaven intended should be granted to every woman.

Thousands fall of this because they have neglected to look after their health in a womanly way. The health of a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health. The prospective mother cannot be too particular about her physical condition. If she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or loss of vigor and virility, her children will be weak, puny and sickly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the right remedy for weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs. It makes these organs strong, healthy. It makes the mother strong and cheerful. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful specialist.

Prepared from nature's roots and herbs, it contains no alcohol nor narcotics, nor any harmful ingredient. Medicine dealers everywhere have it on hand in either tablet or liquid form at all times. If you want a specialist in women's diseases to diagnose your case absolutely free of charge, write Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., to-day.

Report of the County Agent

Louisa, Ky., July 31, 1916.

To His Honor Judge J. B. Clayton, Members of the Fiscal Court, People of Lawrence County, Gentlemen:—

Though no appropriation has been made by the people of this county for the support of extension work in Agriculture, nevertheless, I feel that it is my duty to, and I do herein submit a report of the work performed beginning Feb. 1st 1916 to July 22, 1916.

Realizing how difficult it is to reach the individual in every section I have constantly kept in view a cooperative scheme whereby all the citizens become one system of wires that are never overcharged or underrated by the commercial world; a system that gives the farming interests a chance to develop the quality of Agricultural production in conformity to the highest standards of marketing and market values; a system that brings the men and women of the county and girls closer together to build up the farms on an economical basis, and to ameliorate the educational and social conditions as they now exist. The system is to build up the farm, the foundation of the future, (more than it ever has in the past) rests upon this one thing: in view of which the farmers are becoming interested to erect a permanent organization a superstructure that will resist the invasion of DISCONTENT that has robbed rural districts of so many of its young men and women. To promote and advance all phases of farm life 4 Farmer's Clubs have been established and they are doing excellent work regardless of the adverse conditions under which they strive.

In performing my work I have been in all parts of the county having ridden horseback 1,426 1/2 miles, and on the railroad 1,644 1/2 miles, a sum total of 3,071 miles. It has been my greatest desire to serve everyone, more especially the poor land owner and tenant. For the time I have been here I have visited 271 farmers, and have been consulted by 398 others regarding various farming operations which they have been sufficiently interested to begin improvements: made 99 visits to men who are carrying out some form of demonstration that becomes an object lesson to others: it has been necessary to write 455 letters in connection with the work: 196 circular letters have been sent out to the club members of the county: 219 bulletins and 143 farm papers distributed all of which contain articles of vital importance to the farmer: have held 29 public meetings and 52 field meetings in the field meetings various demonstrations have been given in vaccinating cattle against blackleg and inoculating hogs with anti-cholera serum; pruning and spraying demonstrations have been given in many places. Vaccinated 189 hogs and 697 cattle, in every instance the herds were exposed to the malady and in every instance excellent results have been reported. Beginning at Louisa and drawing a straight line east, all of the country north of the line is subject to or is badly infected with hog cholera. Blackleg is becoming prevalent and not until sanitation and prevention is practiced by all will it ever become eradicated entirely; subsequently everyone with herds in exposed districts will have to adopt the vaccine preventive measures. One herd of registered animals no doubt was saved by the use of vaccine besides a number of graded animals.

At the present time in all parts of the county the following demonstrations are in progress: crimson clover 5, corn and cowpeas 2, lawns 2, clover inoculation 2, lime-oil 1, alfalfa 2, alfalfa 2, sweet clover 2, vetch 1, improved fertilizers 2, Corn Club Boys 57. In the corn club the boy that wins the championship of the county gets a trip to the State fair, all expense paid. Pig club work will be taken up with the schools this fall. For the improvement of the live stock of the county 10 or more registered thoroughbred sires are to be purchased through the fair organization and distributed through-out the county. Agricultural classes will be organized for the benefit of teachers and districts in general where agriculture will be taught both technically and practically by the use of text books purchased by the members of the class, and Nature's inexhaustible laboratories.

The people are and must soon realize that the spirit of cooperation is the only cement that can bind the structure of humanity into one solid mass; the more nourishment the greater the development, resist it and chaos hovers near.

Very respectfully yours,
A. C. Young
County Agent.

Good Road Days

Good Road days, July 29 and 31, were observed in many sections of the county. Reports coming in from Griffith's Creek and Tug River, Dry Creek, Brushy East Fork and other places show that a great deal of work was done. We hope to be able to publish each man's part who worked on the two days set apart. The Louisa force met at the mouth of Lick Creek and widened that road around the sharp turn which has been considered so dangerous to persons driving in from the country because of the near approach to the railroad. Excellent work was done at this place for a day and a half. In the afternoon of the twenty-first a considerable force worked on the road leading to the cemetery and that road now is in very good condition. The list of those working from Louisa follows:

- John Frasier
- Sam Dock Frasier
- C. L. Miller
- John G. Burns
- M. H. Johns
- M. L. Johns
- J. S. Osborn
- M. S. Burns
- Jas. Norton
- Geo. Lewis
- G. W. Atkinson
- Will Queen
- H. B. Highberger
- John Preston
- G. R. Vinson
- Carl Heaton
- Dan Riffe
- Walter Clayton Jr.
- Dad Hannans
- James Marcum
- Lewis Freese
- Archie Cain
- Emery Elam
- James Cain
- Robt Dixon
- W. J. Roberts
- Frederic Rule
- O. G. Smith
- J. H. Thompson
- M. F. Conley (hired substitute)
- J. B. Clayton
- T. S. Thompson (substitute)
- B. J. Calloway
- K. M. Short
- A. O. Carter
- M. A. Hay
- Augustus Snyder, team, self and motor truck.
- Rev. L. E. McDoldowney
- Gum Berry
- Henry Preston
- W. H. Adams
- J. P. Martin
- Roscoe Moore
- Heber Byington

If any have been omitted it is unintentional.

So much favorable comment has been made about Rev. McDoldowney's work that we feel sure no one else will object to singling him out. He proved to be an adept. In the rock drilling he "swung a sledge" for half a day.

JEAN

Good Roads Day was observed by a large crowd on the head of Dry Fork and a lot of good was done. Now probably the county officials will see that we are interested in good roads and will help us make some important changes that are badly needed. We sure want good roads and are willing to work to get them. Here is a list of those who came out and worked:

Walter Bates, R. Butler, C. C. Miles, Frank and Laff Webb, Gordon Kelley, Will Holbrook, Bishop Giles B. Dixon, Earl Perkins, John Johnson, G. W. Kitchen, H. G. Thompson, Willie Hicks, Jay Hicks, Willie Howard, Herbert McWain. Some of the above workers furnished teams and worked too. We would have had about every man on the head of Dry Fork had it not been for sickness and the rush of the boys to get their wheat hauled before the threshing machine came.

Hurray for our showing on good roads day.

SCIENCE—INDUSTRY.

Nonsplintering Glass.

Superglass is the name of a new product designed to help development of the "safety first" movement. The new glass is made up of two pieces of polished plate glass, between which is a sheet of celluloid. The glass and celluloid are welded together under high temperature and tremendous pressure, forming a solid sheet. The product possesses unusual resiliency and is so tough that a 22 caliber bullet fired at close range in tests failed to penetrate, while if the glass is struck with a hammer or heavy rock the only result is to mar the polished surface with a series of fine hair lines or cracks and there is no shower of flying glass or splinters.

Belt Stretching.

A mistaken belief prevails among many mechanics that the best belts are those that have all the stretch taken out by the maker. To do this the manufacturer must subject the leather to a stretching process so violent and severe that all the life is taken out of it, and the belts are robbed of what ought to be a leading characteristic—durability. The belt when driving machinery is stretched generally, not suddenly or violently, and for this reason the stretching is less injurious to it than when it goes through the quick process of the maker.—Blacksmith and Wheelwright.

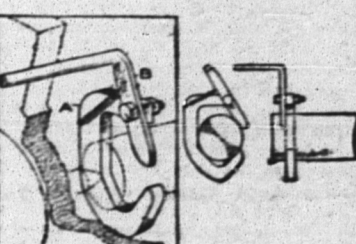

South Dakota Gold.

The value of the gold, silver and lead produced in South Dakota in 1915 from thirty-three productive mines, ten of which were placers, amounted to $7,607,782, compared with $7,431,343 in 1914, as reported by Charles W. Henderson of the United States geological survey.

The gold output in 1915 was 358,280 fine ounces, valued at $7,406,305, compared with 354,758 ounces, valued at $7,333,508 in 1914. The production of silver increased from 176,642 to 199,864 fine ounces.

Quickly Applied Lathe Dog.

In roughing down a large number of shafts prior to grinding them I found it took considerable time to adjust the dog and remove it. I set about making one as an improvement over the ordinary lathe dog and one that could be quickly applied, and the result was as illustrated, writes a contributor to Popular Mechanics. The body or yoke A was made of machine steel, two and three-quarter inches long, two inches wide and three-quarters of an inch thick, which was casehardened after it was forged into the shape shown. The tail B, on which a notched end was formed for holding the shaft, was made of tool steel and tempered. The tail swings on a pivot in the extending end of the yoke. A helical spring is placed in a drilled hole, as shown, to open the dog for removal. When driving the shaft it grips tightly, the same as a pipe wrench.

New Gulf Petroleum Wells.

In all 862 wells were drilled in the coastal pools in 1915-1916 in Texas and 101 in Louisiana. In the Texas division oil wells numbered 418, gas wells 6, and dry holes 337; in the Louisiana division oil wells, 73; gas wells, 2, and dry holes, 26. The new oil wells in coastal Texas averaged 803 barrels each the first day of productive life, and those in coastal Louisiana 619 barrels each. The output of all oil wells, new and old, in the gulf field averaged twenty-five barrels a day each.

Radium's Great Power.

At a recent meeting of the Practitioners' society Dr. Robert Abbe showed, in order to illustrate the penetrative power of radium, a photographic plate upon which a revolver had been photographed by a single grain of radium. The cartridge with which the revolver was loaded and the internal mechanism of the revolver were clearly seen in the photograph, demonstrating that the rays had penetrated the steel.

Light Guards Money Vaults.

The vaults of the new branch of the Corn Exchange bank at Eighty-sixth street and Broadway, New York, are protected by a most elaborate system of electric lights and mirrors. The space underneath them is brilliantly lighted, and mirrors at the floor angles reflect everything that takes place beneath. A vertical mirror reveals to the night watchman the narrow passage between the vaults and the walls of the building.

Talc and Soapstone.

The geological survey now has available for distribution its annual statement on talc and soapstone in 1915. During the year 186,881 short tons of talc and soapstone, valued at $1,891,582, were sold in the United States, an increase of 8 per cent in quantity and 1 per cent in value over the amount sold in 1914.

Production of Silica.

The annual statement on silica in 1915 is now available for distribution by the geological survey. During the year the production of silica in various forms amounted to 243,340 short tons, valued at $1,270,836.

WILSON AND MARSHALL

LETCHER COUNTY AND WHITESBURG.

What is Happening in this Rich Coal Territory of Kentucky.

Much of the past week was taken up in the county court in the trials of the whiskey and beer vendors in Letcher county, and in practically every case the extreme penalty was meted out to the violators of the law. Fines running from fifty to one hundred dollars and thirty to sixty days in jail were not unusual, and it is said the working statute will be imposed upon the men. The officers of Letcher County are fully determined to put a finis to the illegal traffic which has done so much to injure the fair name of our county.

A number of bootleggers were arrested during the week by U. S. Marshal John M. Riddle and possemen of this city. The men were brought before U. S. Commissioner Samuel Collins and bound over to the Frankfort court. Marshall Riddle is leading the van in law and order in our county and he is doing wonders along that line.

The lot sale in Neon, which was conducted at the instance of Lewis Hogg and Frasier, of this city, proved a splendid success, many lots having been sold. It is said as a result of the sale that the construction of a large number of buildings are to be started immediately. It is certain that a building boom, unequalled in this section before, will be started.

It is reported here that West Virginia people are back of a move to establish an electric light plant in the new town of Neon in the coal fields section which has for several months enjoyed a good building boom. It is said also that an ice plant will be established. Neon is destined to boom as the development of the extensive coal fields surrounding progresses.

People arriving here from sections of the Cumberland and Pine Mountains along and contiguous to the Kentucky-Virginia border line say a splendid whortleberry crop, one of the best in many years, are ripe in the mountains. Already many berry pickers are in the mountains gathering the luscious berries.

A number of cases of cholera infantum prevails in different points in the coal fields of the country. Already a number of deaths have occurred among children, especially in Haymon and Fleming. A general cleaning up campaign will be inaugurated in an effort to check the progress of the disease. Physicians are busy.

An increase in the salary of postmaster N. M. Webb, effective July 1 has been made. The salary of he office jumped from $1,000 to $1,200. Mr. Webb will have about three more years under his present appointment. An increase in the salary of the office at Fleming to $1,500 has also been made.

The new town between Craftsville and Sergeant in the coal fields section to be built by The South East Coal Co. has been christened LaViers in honor of Mr. H. LaViers the manager at Paintsville. Already the work is starting nicely, especially the grade work which is gaining much headway. The foundation for a good sized power plant is rapidly going down, and the building of miners' houses is expected to start within the next few days. The Louisville and Nashville railroad has opened a station at that point in order to facilitate the work. LaViers will have a very rapid growth.

Telegrams have been received from Albuquerque, N. Mex. to the effect that B. Bjorhson formerly of this county, and a famous musician, a Canadian by birth, died after long illness from the effects of tuberculosis. Bjorhson went to the far west in the hope that he could regain his health. His death is widely mourned.

Born, one day last week to Charley Allen and wife the largest pair of twins ever known in this section. They were boys weighing 12 pounds each. One died soon after birth and the other is getting along fine and bids fair for life.

Lon Brown had the misfortune of getting his hand cut very badly a few days ago while canning berries. He was fighting lids when a can broke cutting his hand, and one finger was nearly cut off.

The good work on the Chapman-Needmore road is still going on. The road down to the "MOORE Y" is getting into automobile condition. There is nothing being done to the lower end of the section except to keep it safe as the parties seem to still be unable to reach an agreement for the right-of way over the new proposed road and it seems a pity to waste good money on the old route.

Billie Back has returned from a two weeks visit at Huntington. The Coeburn Lumber Co. has begun cutting timber on the Wallace tract. The mill will arrive in ten days or two weeks.

They will not build a tramroad as the Beaver people did, but will contract the hauling of the mill output to team owners throughout the section. The mill will cut about ten thousand feet per day, on an eight million foot boundary.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Bartlett, of Ashland, spent several days last week on our creek the guests of their daughter, Mrs. Rex Vaughan.

W. H. Hardin has purchased a fine horse from William Martin of Clifford. Charley Sammons and Hub Franklin have returned from Lackeyville, W. Va. where they have been employed for some time.

Uncle Marion Cox, of Red Jacket, is here visiting friends of former days.

Mrs. Corilda Berry has returned to her home in Ashland after two weeks visit with her parents, W. S. Chapman and wife.

The Misses Gussie and Ethel Walker were the pleasant entertainers of a large crowd of young folks Sunday afternoon.

The Revs. Strother Fitzpatrick and David Sammons preached at the Summit Baptist church Saturday night and Sunday.

W. M. Childers has purchased a young mule team and a new wagon and is going to put them on Griffith Creek road.

Raymond, little son of Fred Perry Sr., is quite sick at this writing.

Andy Cripple, who was injured in a fall from a wagon some time ago, is able to work again.

Mrs. George Maynard, of Ashland, has returned home after a weeks' visit with her uncle, George W. Owens and family.

Mrs. Simon Bartlett and Mrs. Rex Vaughan spent Tuesday with the latter's daughter, Mrs. C. Victor Back.

I. Will See, of Louisa, spent Saturday and Sunday on our creek.

John Rucker, of Glen Hayes, spent Saturday and Sunday here with his sister, Mrs. Josh Sammons.

Josh Sammons got one of his feet mashed very badly July 31 by a log while working for the Harris Lumber Co.

Snford Preton had a fine young mule to die one day last week from drinking too much water while hot.

Wm. Williamson and Hub Franklin left Monday for Van Lear to work.

Mrs. G. W. Chaffin, who has been on the sick list for some days past, is somewhat better, we are glad to say. Thomas H. Burchett gathered up and shipped a nice bunch of veal calves to the Cincinnati markets one day last week.

Enos and Burwell Derefield left on Monday morning for Ashland in response to a telegram announcing the death on Sunday night of their nephew, George Derefield, son of Labe L. Derefield of that place. George Derefield was well and favorably known among many, having been a confederator on the C. & O.

A memorial meeting was held at the Foster grave yard on last Sunday at which there were several preachers and a large and well ordered congregation. The preachers present were Revs. R. F. Rice, Rowland Hutchinson, William Justice. These were the ones that your scribe knew knew, though there may have been other ministers present. The ministers of different denominations made the meeting a sort of union meeting and the preaching of the Rev. R. F. Rice, Rowland Hutchinson and brother Ellis brought about a general spiritual stir, such as your scribe has not before witnessed for several weeks past, or even years. Another feature of the affair was that dinner was served on the ground and then preaching again at 2 p. m. All sorts of fine eatables and clever people were there and to use the phrase once more, "your scribe" thinks that the whole affair was backed up by the right sort of religion.

The betting on the presidential election, as fixed by the biggest gambler in Chicago, shows the odds changing in favor of Mr. Wilson.

The new law passed by Congress providing national aid to roads will prove one of the most popular and useful laws enacted. Kentucky will receive $97,471.91 the first year, available very soon. States having laws to aid the counties are the only ones to get national help. Kentucky has such a law enacted the first year of Gov. McCreary's administration.

GARTIN'S OLD STAND
LOUISA, KY. KENTUCKY

AN INDORSEMENT FOR CONGRESSMAN FIELDS THAT IS WORTH READING.

To the public and especially Democrats of the 9th Congressional District: Saturday, August 5th, Democratic voters of the 9th Congressional District will nominate the next Congressman, the nomination being equivalent to an election.

Hon. W. J. Fields, present incumbent, is a candidate to succeed himself in that office and his record therein whether efficient or otherwise and fitness for renewal of the commission he holds, are to be considered and passed upon by the voters of this party. To say that he has been diligent in all matters demanded of him by his constituents irrespective of party distinction; that he has been prompt, faithful and attentive to their requirements is to proclaim what all fair minded men concede. His character, built upon sure foundation of integrity in all things, great and small, unflinching courtesy, candor and truthfulness is known to all familiar with the man and has won for him the respect and confidence of his associates in Congress, heads of the various departments of public service, in the councils of his party and in the friendly regard of the President. No constituent of William J. Fields, at home or abroad, can be otherwise than proud to be represented by a man of his type—clean of life, honored and respected by all who know him. He is therefore entitled on the record of things accomplished to a vote of approval and commendation. It should be esteemed as a privilege of the voters to continue him in office with enlarged capacity and ability resulting from experience in public affairs and again availing themselves of his services. In point of natural and acquired ability quite apart from any consideration of experience in public affairs, it is not extravagant to say that he is easily the peer of any candidate opposing him in the primary.

Congressman Fields lives in our next-door county, Carter, in our judicial district. The other candidates for the Democratic nomination live considerably farther away. Lawrence Democrats usually support home people.

He comes from the ranks of those who earn support from their toil. By attentive study of conditions existing in his districts, the interests of which are diversified to a greater extent than in any other Kentucky district in that they comprise the tobacco and live stock interests of several bluegrass counties; the coal, clay, oil and natural gas in the eastern counties; the steel, iron, coke, firebrick and lumber industries of our immediate section and being familiar with all, his ability and worthiness to present all of them is beyond cavil of doubt or question.

With intelligent zeal Mr. Fields has made himself familiar with problems involved in congressional legislation relating to the subject of Good Roads, Rural Credits, by loans to farmers on security of their farms, Federal Workmen's Compensation Act, Acts restricting child labor, illiteracy and other matters involved in what may aptly be termed as modern progressive legislation. His position on the pensions and Military Committees of the house enables him to render effective service in behalf of pensioners under existing laws and to safeguard conditions of service for the young men entering and to enter military duty for the country. A new man of even transcendentally greater ability, without such experience, could not hope or be expected to secure a position of such advantage to his constituents and the country at large. One "good term" deserves another, especially when the new term carries assurance of still better and more efficient service to be rendered on behalf of his constituency by a man faithful and true in every relation of life, always justifying the confidence and respect of his fellows.

JOHN F. HAGER
Ashland, Ky., July 31, 1916.

The Enquirer's political dopest, Tom Crowell writes to that paper that A. J. Kirk will win the Republican nomination for Appellate Judge in this district. Also, that Congressman Fields will win for Congress in the Ninth district.

The freight submarine from Germany which arrived at Baltimore recently, started Wednesday on the return trip across the ocean and successfully eluded the British war vessels that were watching for her just outside the three-mile limit from the American shore.

Mr. Hughes has not pitched his campaign on a very high plane. He leads mostly in condemnation of his country's foreign policy. This must read well to foreigners just at this time, when loyalty to one's nation is the liveliest theme in the world. "America First," Mr. Hughes, is the slogan of the people and the motto of our great president.

The Louisville Post says: The Berlin correspondent of a number of Eastern newspapers note a growing agitation in Germany for a renewal of submarine warfare against merchantmen, but there is a general agreement that there will be no change in the policy that Germany is now pledged to the United States to observe until "after the November elections in America."

This postponement is of the greatest possible interest to the people of the United States, indicating as it does the keen interest that the Kaiser and the German staff are taking in the fight that is being made against President Wilson in this country, and it will only be natural if the Kaiser accepts the election of Mr. Hughes as meaning that the American people are ready to submit to the destruction of American citizens on ocean vessels if such destruction helps Germany in her fight against England and France. As things stand President Wilson has observed absolute neutrality. This was shown by his decision in regard to the German submarine merchantmen, Deutschland, but he has forced Germany to abandon her lawless system of blowing up merchant vessels without warning in midocean.

Mr. Hughes has turned loose his labored effort otherwise known as his opening campaign speech. It is made up of generalities, glittering and otherwise. For instance, he declares himself for a policy of "firmness and consistency" toward Mexico. To be sure, What a relief! The public has been waiting almost breathlessly to learn whether he would shoot Mexico into submission after the Democrats prepared for him an army and navy sufficient for the job, or would he have rushed in there three years ago, or two years ago or one year ago with that miniature army that he inherited from Taft, Roosevelt and McKinley, and had the stuffin' licked out of us? And now the suspense is ended. He has told us exactly what he would have done and exactly what he will do if elected President. He would use "firmness and consistency." The ignorant Mexican greaser will have no difficulty in understanding from this exactly what would have happened to him if Mr. Hughes had been President. It is terrible to contemplate the results of such a policy.

Mr. Hughes the Great Condemner, condemns every step taken by the Wilson administration, but carefully forgets to start at the beginning, or to condemn Mr. Taft for failing to settle the Mexican troubles. They have been in war down there for 15 years. American investors had no more protection for several years previous to Mr. Wilson's administration than they have now. They are the ones who are behind nearly all of the demand for war between the United States and Mexico. They do not care how many lives it costs, so their property is saved for them. Wilson values lives above money and property, and the people of the United States are heartily indorsing his great success in keeping us out of war, and doing it with honor. Mr. Hughes has no brand of firmness that could possibly beat that so successfully and consistently employed by Mr. Wilson. This country is not going to trade off a magnificent success for an unknown quantity, especially at so critical a time in the world's history as prevails this year.

There is a strong suspicion that all of the summer complaints of which children die are now magnified into the new terror, infantile paralysis. Despite the increasing number of deaths and new cases of infantile paralysis in New York City, Health Commissioner Emerson declares that the death rate of children is lower than it was last year. He stated the records of his department showed that 655 less infants have died so far in the city than in the corresponding period of 1915.

WOMAN'S SHOP AT STATE FAIR. For the second time the history of the Kentucky State Fair a Woman's Shop is to be a part of same this year. This department was inaugurated last year and was found to be such an attractive one that a continuation and enlargement of this phase of exhibits, that of placing woman's handiwork before the buying public, was thought to be wise.

In the woman's department articles of woman's handiwork in textiles, art and cookery are exhibited in competition for prizes. The woman's shop is intended to give an opportunity to the ladies of the State to exhibit their handiwork for sale. A small commission will be charged but only on articles sold. All articles sent to the Woman's Shop will be taken care of to the best ability of a corps of efficient ladies in charge, and the public who are attracted to the fair will have an opportunity of purchasing something at a moderate price and that something the handiwork of the home-makers of our State. Articles ranging from quilts to baby caps and handkerchiefs, as well as beautiful things in art, will be on sale here.

A Man Hater

How She Was Converted From Her Antagonism

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

There are all sorts of persons in the world, both men and women. Those who have an abnormal development of some kind are usually called cranks. Miss Clara Bedford was one of these. There was no ism too radical for her. One of her misnomers was antagonism to man. Man had kept woman under his heel for centuries, making her what she is, or, rather, what she was, for, thank heaven, she is now every day asserting herself.

"How about children?" she was asked. "There must be fathers as well as mothers. If women hate men, where will the babies come in?"

Miss Bedford had no reply for this. Unreasonable persons don't seem to need a reply to questions that tumble their theories about their heads; their confidence in what they believe is not a whit lessened from the want of reason. They go right on just as if they had an answer and a perfectly satisfactory one.

Nevertheless, Miss Bedford was a very human being. Down in the bottom of her heart she loved an imaginary man and yearned for a child.

However, acting upon her prejudices, she arranged for her summer to get away from men. She was wealthy and bought a tract of land in New Hampshire upon which she built a cottage. There she went with servants and a few companions of her own sex, resolved that if any man trespassed on her property she would call upon the law to eject him.

She used to get up in the morning early and take long walks. One morning on one of these walks she saw on the border of her domain a tent. What was worse than the tent was a man walking away from it. Miss Bedford started at once for the trespasser, but before she reached him he had disappeared among the trees. Reaching the tent, she pulled back the canvas in front and peeped in.

What was her astonishment to see lying on a bed of boughs a child—a little girl about two years old—sleeping. One chubby arm was thrown back upon the pillow—there was some bedding—the other was under the cover. The fine hair was tangled, the cheeks were round and rosy, in the chin was a dimple. The lips were parted and showed a few little white teeth set in pink gums.

Miss Bedford went into the tent and approached the sleeping child. The cover at the foot of the bed was disarranged and showed five little toes. Miss Bedford could not resist a temptation to take them in her fingers. The child gave a little kick, opened its eyes and frowned at the trespasser. Then, its brow smoothing, it said:

"Mamma."

Miss Bedford bent over the little girl, who put out both arms to her to be taken up. She lifted the infantile bundle of flesh from the rude couch, kissing it as she did so, and, pulling its clothes about it, took a wicker chair. The only article in the tent on which to sit, and begged the baby to her breast.

"Din-din," said the little one.

"Din-din," repeated Miss Bedford.

"How am I to get you, dear little child, any din-din?" She looked about her and went on, "There's nothing here for a grown person to eat, much less for a child." There were a cup and a saucer and a spoon, but not a morsel to eat.

"Din-din," repeated the child.

"I'd like to know where that horrid man is who left you here to starve," said Miss Bedford.

"I am here," said a voice, and a man, with a cup of milk in his hand, threw back the tent flap. Miss Bedford saw that he had come for the baby's breakfast and forgave him.

"Where did you get the milk?" she asked.

"From one of your cows. I presume you are the owner of the cow I milked."

"That's not enough. You'd better get some more."

The man poured the milk into another cup and without a word went away. While he was gone Miss Bedford gave the little girl milk to drink, which, being warm from the cow, did not need to be heated. As she sat holding the white milk to the vermilion lips she was wondering how the man came to bring a baby on to her property and feed it with milk from her cows. Had it not been for the innocent little baby she might have upbraided him, though he was a sad countenance. She remembered her principles and resolved to give him a piece of her mind as soon as he returned.

But by this time the child had drunk the milk and was ready for more.

"Is there not a morsel of bread in the tent?" asked Miss Bedford.

"No a crust," replied the man sadly.

"Go to my house and tell the cook to give you some of the cereal she is preparing for breakfast and such other food as she can find that will do for a baby's food."

"You are very kind. I am surprised. I was told that you would permit no trespassing on your property, so I did not camp on it. I am just beyond your border."

"What do you mean by keeping this child in a tent with nothing to eat except what you can get by foraging?"

"Foraging," was the laconic reply.

"Where is the child's mother?"

"Dead."

"What are you going to do?"

"God knows."

There was something wonderful in the words.

"I think," Miss Bedford went on, "that you had better let me take the baby to my house."

"I don't care to part with all that is left which I and my wife loved together."

A tender cord was touched in Miss Bedford's breast. She forgot her notion of hating all men in this union of a living man with a dead woman, cemented by their child. She said in a kindly voice:

"It need be only a temporary sojourn if you prefer it, till you can make other provision. You can come if you like. Have you had a breakfast?"

"No."

"Do you know where to get one?"

"No."

"I can give you one."

"You are very kind, but I can manage without your help. I think. The baby?"

"Yes, the baby. You will not let your pride stand in the way of your baby. Certainly you will carry her to my house."

"Of course."

He took the child from her arms and together they started for the house.

On the way he gave her a brief explanation of the situation. He was an artist and, like most artists who have not made a name, very poor. Not being able to keep up a home, he and his wife and their child started on a sketching tour, camping here and there, the husband painting landscapes. The wife had died, and the husband, not having any other abode, stuck to his tent. It was a pathetic story, and Miss Bedford's horror for man—at any rate this particular man—melted before it.

When they reached the house she said to him:

"It is in your power to do me a kindness. Sit down to the same breakfast table with me and your child. I shall enjoy every mouthful you eat more than you can conceive."

He gave in to this way of putting it. Miss Bedford placed herself between him and his child, and it is questionable which she the most enjoyed helping, the man or the child. He had managed to get the simple food required for his little girl. For her he would take what did not belong to him or accept it from strangers, but not for himself. He was very hungry and ate a great deal, his hostess pressing him to do so. After he had finished she said to him:

"You have done me one favor; now I wish you to do me another. Leave the child here with me while you make your sketches. You are welcome to come here to see her whenever you like, and you may feel privileged to take her away when you can provide for her."

The artist could scarcely conceal the relief this offer brought him. "Since I have only a tent for her," he said, "I have no right to deprive her of the comfort you can give her."

"And you have no right to deprive me of the happiness I shall have in taking care of her."

An hour later the artist kissed his child and took his departure. The tent disappeared, and nothing was seen of man or tent for several weeks. Then he came to Miss Bedford's home with a number of sketches. One of them, a water vista, the original being on her own ground, Miss Bedford very much fancied. She offered the artist a good price for it. He declined it on the ground that through charity she would pay him more than it was worth. But when she proposed that he should send it to a dealer in New York to fix its value he accepted the proposition. Miss Bedford privately wrote the dealer to fix a price she named herself, and this she paid the artist.

Now and again he came in from his sketching tours to see his child, and every time he came he offered to relieve Miss Bedford of her charge. She invariably declined to be relieved unless he insisted on his right to take his baby to himself, and the longer the moral was put off the more difficult it would be for Miss Bedford to give up the child. But the father would not accept of the lady's hospitality, and this made it awkward. If he would have made his headquarters at the house when not out painting it would have been much pleasanter, for the child was constantly fretting for him.

Finally when he began to get some return for his pictures Miss Bedford proposed that if he would make her house his lodging place when not out sketching she would permit him to pay a nominal board. After much haggling as to the amount, the lady declaring what he proposed to pay nothing less than robbing him, a compromise was made, and for the rest of the summer a room in a wing of the house was at his disposal whenever he chose to use it.

The truth is nature was working in Miss Bedford, the artist and the little girl to make the three one. They were becoming necessary to one another, and a time arrived when the woman found it out. One would suppose that her antipathy to men in general would have at least troubled her at finding herself in a position to succumb. But it did not. The child stepped in to render that a thing of the past. One day when Miss Bedford was on one side of the baby's crib and the father on the other, he trying to unwind the little one's arms from his neck that he might go forth to sketch, Miss Bedford said:

"There's no use in our making ourselves uncomfortable and troubling the child any longer. You won't propose to me that I know. If the mountain will not go to Mohammed, Mohammed must go to the mountain." You can marry me whenever you like."

After that when he went on sketching tours he usually took his wife and the child with him.

LOUISA, KENTUCKY

CASH IN ADVANCE PLAN TO BE ADOPTED

On October 15th, 1916, the Big Sandy News Subscription List will be on a New Basis, and the Paper will be Sent Only until the Date Paid in Advance.

INCREASED COST OF PRODUCTION FORCES THIS CHANGE

As announced in the above headlines the Big Sandy News will change its policy in handling the subscription list. We are compelled either to increase the subscription to $1.50 per year or to take steps that will stop all leaks and waste. We hope by doing the latter to keep the subscription price at one dollar.

We are making announcement of our new policy several months in advance of its adoption so that all our friends and subscribers will have ample time to get on the new basis.

It has been customary from "time immemorial" almost, for country papers to extend credit to subscribers and to continue sending the paper until death, poverty, disease, hopelessness, or an earthquake caused a break. This is bad business and often times very unsatisfactory. Some people get the impression that the publisher is trying to force the paper on them. This is one thing the publisher of the Big Sandy News can truthfully say he has never intended nor had any desire to do. In soliciting we do not even insist strongly upon anyone subscribing for the paper, because we never want to push it upon any person. Our efforts are directed chiefly to making a paper worth the subscription price. Nevertheless, a few people seem to think the paper is being forced upon them when it continues beyond the date paid for.

On the other hand, we have had a number of subscribers to resent our action in stopping the paper at the expiration of the period paid for, saying it was a reflection on their credit. This is the source from which we anticipate most of the trouble that is likely to come in changing to a strictly cash in advance system. But when the change is made it will be absolutely necessary to enforce it impartially. The mailing list will be in charge of an employee who doesn't know any better than to stop every subscription at its paid expiration.

Although as above stated, the proposition has two sides, we believe our friends and patrons will like the new system better. We ask their kind cooperation in establishing this more business-like plan.

It Will Help You. It Has Helped Others. Why Not You?

For almost four years my business has been increasing. I am better acquainted with the country and people. I have tried to please all my customers and give every man the worth of his money. I am able to care for you while here, will show you more country in three days than any man in Scott county and it costs you nothing. I will feed you good home raised and home cooked grub, put up in the Big Sandy fashion and it costs you nothing whether you buy or not. Why go to other dealers where you have to walk for miles and pay board, etc., when you can buy from one of your own Big Sandy boys and have a good time at my expense. We have good land here dear reader and it has a very reasonable price on it. Most all the roads are good. Listen to this:

$0 a. with two houses, plenty fruit, 20 a. bottom and good hill. All for $1400.00. $1000.00 cash, balance to suit you.

168 a. 100 a. level and rolling, two houses, fair barn and old school house on farm. All for $2000.00. $1500.00 cash, balance to suit you.

I can not tell you all the bargains I have but most anything you want I have it or will help you hunt it up. Land is leasing here for oil and gas at 10c per acre. Better get hold of some of it. Write me what you want. I answer all letters as soon as possible after received. Come to Ironton, O., then take the D. T. & L. for Bloom Junction, O. Write me and I will meet you at the station. You are invited to call on me.

STEAM BOAT BILL

Ashland Independent says: Capt. Wm. Meyers returned home last night from Orting, Wash., where he was called by the death of his son Chas. Meyers, who died last Monday week, and whose death was due to neuritis of the heart. The funeral services were held last Sunday and were largely attended as the deceased was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

Capt. Meyers left Ashland on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock and was in Orting the following Saturday morning at 10:30, having traveled 2400 miles. Although the mission was a sad one and the trip a hard one, Capt. Meyers returned home feeling unexpectedly well, physically.

IN MEMORY.

The death angel has again visited our community and taken for its victim Harry Thomas. He was about 27 years of age, and leaves a father, mother, five sisters and three brothers to mourn his loss. They were all present at the funeral but one sister. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. He was sick but a short time. All was done for him that loving hands do, so weep not dear friends and let us meet Harry where parting will be no more. He was laid to rest in the Brickly grave yard.

Brother, rest from sin and sorrow. Death is over and life is won. On thy slumber dawn no morrow. Rest, thy earthly race is run.

A FRIEND

HUBBARDSTOWN

Mr. and Mrs. Cline Lakin entertained quite a crowd last Sunday. They had for their dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Berry, J. F. Spencer and wife and two daughters, Cora Hutchinson and Srie Bellomy, Mrs. Lakin's mother, Lizzie and Luca Hutchinson. After partaking of a delicious dinner music instrumental and vocal, was enjoyed in the afternoon. Larma Lakin was the organist and the music was fine.

Edgar Lakins was noticed last Sunday en route to Grayson to call on his former sweetheart.

Charley and Bas Lakin were out driving last Sunday exploring the country.

Cullie Merideth and Josie Carver were united in marriage last Saturday night at Rev. Robert Billups'.

The automobiles were thick on Hurricane last Sunday, making the dust fly skyward.

We are sorry to note that Sarah Belcher is no better.

Mollie Lakin is on the sick list.

Myrtle Davis is not much improved.

B. J. Hatten and wife were visiting his grandmother, Sarah Belcher, last Sunday.

Ed Bellomy and wife visited Fred Massie last Sunday. They report that they were cordially entertained.

Charley Lakin will teach the Hubbardstown school. He commenced his school last Monday.

Chris Lawrence is preparing to drill an oil well on Tom Belcher's farm. He and several men are busy hauling timber to the site where the well is to be put down. Mr. Lawrence anticipates a good at this place. He has leased 400 acres of land in this vicinity for oil and gas. I am sure that gas will be found but as to oil I am not certain and not sure that the gas will burn, but it will make thundering noises.

Ed Merideth's store burned down last Tuesday morning with all contents. It was not insured and the cause of the fire is unknown so far.

Farmers are complaining about dry weather in this place.

L. E. Crisp, of Knoxville, Tenn., was here delivering pictures one day last week.

Mr. Jerry Biggs and daughter, Elsie McComas, were calling in Louisa one day last week.

Mrs. Lonnie Ellis was visiting her sister, Mrs. D. E. Bellomy, Monday.

BLACKETED JOE

"Splashers" Are Garbed Like This

NOVELTY spells this suit, which is set up in navy satin banded with mist gray taffeta. This combination is reversed for the skirt, over which falls a belted top cut in points. Interesting details are the corded lacing across the V neck and the square beach hat of satin worn over a rubber helmet for actual dips.

An admirable sport cap for week end wear may be folded and packed in a suit case, always emerging fresh, un-crumpled and ready to don for motor-ing or sailing. The cap is made of pongee and taffeta silk, over a lining of crinoline that is not affected by dampness or crushing. The jockey cap shape with deep, shady brim is very becoming and there is a saucy bow of taffeta across the front of the crown.

Gaberline continues in fashion for street suits. There are indications that it will be next winter, as last, one of the leading fabrics. ANNA MAY.

Dainty Lingerie For Full Summer Skirts

THESE two garments are fashioned of flesh colored crepe de chine. The camisole is inserted with val and has shoulder straps of palest blue ribbon. This combination of pale pinks and blues is a new favorite for lingerie. The petticoat alternates rows of shadow lace with silk and is distended with a need to take bouffant gowns.

Extremely narrow belts of leather and kid, with buckled fastenings, are a coming smart accessory of dress.

Loose crowned hats are of velvet, others of plush, the velvet hats having narrow brims, but the plush hats are brimless.

VOTE FOR ANDREW J. KIRK

YOUR NEIGHBOR AND YOUR FRIEND

Deserves the Nomination. Is Well Qualified and Is a Winner Next Saturday.

Enquirer Picks Judge Kirk As Winner In Appellate Judge Race

JUDGE KIRK HAS STRONG LEAD OVER HIS OPPONENTS IN THE SEVENTH APPELLATE DISTRICT.

Willis, Sampson and Faulkner Are Fighting for Second Place With Chances Favoring Faulkner.

(Cincinnati Enquirer, July 29.)

Lexington, Kentucky, 29.—Based on information gathered by letters from leading Republicans and Democrats in various sections of the State, "the dope" on the primary election to be held next Saturday runs thusly:

Judge Andrew Jackson Kirk, of Paintsville, very likely will win the Republican nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the Seventh Appellate District, and it is odds on that he will succeed Judge Charles C. Turner, of Mt. Sterling, on the bench of the big Court at Frankfort. Judge Kirk was the Republican nominee for this office in 1912 to succeed Judge Robert Hiner Winn, of Mt. Sterling, but was the victim of the split in his party. Had there been no division of the G. O. P. it is conceded that Judge Turner, a Democrat, could not have been elected.

At the beginning of this year's fight in the 27 counties of the district it appeared as if Attorney Simeon S. Willis, of Ashland, might be the victor, and a little later on it seemed as if Judge Flem D. Sampson, of Barbourville, would score first, but this information from Republicans and Democrats who are accredited with full knowledge of the sections of the district in which they reside produces the impression that Judge Kirk will be nominated.

LAST APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF THIS SECTION

This is the last appeal to the voters of this section in the race for Appellate Judge. You have in Judge Kirk your neighbor and your friend. He is a native of this section, knows the people and is one of us.

It is true he has a few enemies fighting him, but it is for some personal reason. As Circuit Judge he was called upon to decide cases that came before him for trial. It is but natural that the losing side in a number of cases felt sore over the result. No judge can decide cases without making some of the litigants mad.

The people of this section should feel proud of the fact that they furnished the State an Appellate Judge. There is no question as to the qualifications of Judge Kirk. He is known to most all the people personally in this section.

What can be gained by casting a vote for some candidate that lives out of our valley and unknown to our people? What interest would such a man have in our home people?

Judge Kirk has always been loyal to his party and has worked hard for the success of its nominees. He is making this fight without money. Not one cent except the $225 mentioned in his sworn statement has been contributed outside of his own family. He has no money to try and corrupt the voters. He is asking your support in this race because he feels that he should be nominated this time. Four years ago he was defeated for this office on account of a split in the party, and justice demands that he be nominated when the chances for election this fall are assured.

You will be making no mistake to cast your vote for Judge Kirk. He has made a thorough canvass of the district and will win on next Saturday. In each of the 27 counties in the district there are a large number of loyal Republicans who feel that Judge Kirk is entitled to this nomination and they are going to vote for him. This feeling seems to be general and for the past few days it has been conceded by those who are in a position to know that Judge Kirk will win in a walk.

COME OUT AND STAND BY YOUR FRIEND AND NEIGHBOR, JUDGE ANDREW J. KIRK. This is his last race.

WARNING

All kinds of falsehoods will be circulated against Judge Kirk before the primary. It is their object to wait until the very last few days and then send out all kinds of reports that cannot be corrected before the election.

LET THE VOTERS KEEP THIS IN MIND, and brand as falsehoods all these reports sent but on the eve of the election. They show on their face that they are false.

These enemies of Judge Kirk will do anything to lose him votes. BE ON YOUR GUARD. THE DIRTY FALSEHOODS WILL BE CIRCULATED.

Judge Kirk is a winner in the race for Appellate Judge and his opponents know it.

WILLIS

HELPED TO DEFEAT JUDGE KIRK FOUR YEARS AGO. FOUGHT THE REPUBLICAN TICKET IN HIS HOME COUNTY OF BOYD.

Has Never Done Anything for the Republican Party and A Native of Ohio.

S. S. Willis who is asking the Republicans of this Appellate District to nominate him for Appellate Judge came to Ashland from Ohio. Four years ago Judge Kirk was the Republican nominee for Appellate Judge and Willis fought him and helped to defeat him. He now asks the people to elect him to the same office he four years ago helped to elect a Democrat to. Not only did he fight Judge Kirk but he made a strong fight against the nominees of the Republican party in Boyd county for county office. He fought them openly. He has never had any interest in the Republican party but has given the party some hard licks.

Can the Republicans of this Appellate District afford to vote for Willis? He is the candidate of the classes and not the masses. The laboring men of his home county do not know him, neither does he know them. They are not for him. He is not known over the district and is considered by those who know to be the fourth man in the race and cannot get in it.

Beware of falsehoods that will be circulated against Judge Kirk on the eve of the election. These reports are now being prepared and will be out too late for Judge Kirk to answer them.

A vote for Willis is a half vote against Judge Kirk. Sampson, Faulkner and Gourley are all three ahead of Willis. He has no hope of election. He is out merely to defeat Judge Kirk.

Judge Kirk is your neighbor, and your friend. His home people with only a few exceptions are for him for Appellate Judge.
